

How To Log Into CPanel

CPanel is the control panel used for managing your website. You can add programs, manage data, and change the settings of your website. This article contains information about how to log into cPanel.

You can log into cpanel by going to <https://domain/cpanel> or <https://ip/cpanel> Where domain is your website, ip is the address to your server; you can get your ip address by contacting tech support. Using the ip address will allow you to manage your account even before the domain is active. You may also login by going to <https://domain:2083> or <https://ip:2083>

You can also use the server name above in place of your domain name or your IP address.

Related articles

Content by label

There is no content with the specified labels

